Keynote Presentations:

Geezer. Punk. Whatever. Bridging the Generational Divide

Generational differences. We keep hearing about it, and we keep expecting the buzz to go away. But it's not. Join us as we discuss practical things organizations need to successfully navigate shifting demographics.

Cracking the Communication Code

We've all been misunderstood and found ourselves frustrated, angry and discouraged by what someone said. During this interactive session, we'll identify four main communication preferences to simplify, clarify, and improve communication between colleagues and teams.

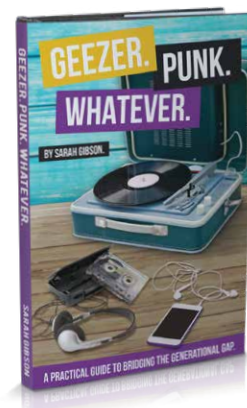

Finding Your Voice

One small voice speaks up and changes the world. One small voice speaks truth and brings healing. One small voice can open our eyes to the diversity around us. One voice is enough to change someone's day and even someone's life. Join us as we explore how to use our voice in a way that allows others' voices to be heard throughout our organizations. We'll explore the impact of our voice, ways to use our voice to enable others to speak up, and tools for speaking in a way that gets heard.

Breakout Sessions:

- Business Writing
- Emotional Intelligence
- Powerful Presentations
- The Five Cohesive Behaviors of a Team
- Unconscious Bias
